"ANTIS" CONTROL ACTION

Main Fight Comes When Nejdil
Moves Bill to Special Order of Business Wednesday

(By United Press)

Indianapolis, Jan. 29.—Charges that certain members of the senate were attempting to "railroad" the appropriation bills, carrying $5,806,120 and a provision that the governor may discharge any employee or commissioned member in the state house, resulted today in the consideration of the bill going over until next week.

The senate convened with just a quorum present, thus putting the "antis" on the republican side in a position to block every move of the "regular members".

The main fight came when Senator Nejdil of Lake county moved to make the appropriation bill a special order of business for next Wednesday. The motion was tabled. Senator Duncan, of Cloverdale, moved that the rules be suspended and the bill be subject to passage.

Opposition to the senator's proposal from every corner of the room and he finally withdrew it. Following withdrawal of the motion by Senator Duncan, the presiding officer without having taken a vote on the suspension of the rule, moved the bill up for second reading.

Senator Nejdil, after being refused recognition by the chair several times, objected that the rules were not being upheld. He called attention to the fact that when a bill comes out of the senate that it must be printed and laid on the desk of the senator for twenty-four hours before it can be brought up for second reading. His objection was sustained.

Senator Duncan then reinforced his bill to suspend the rules but withdrew it again under a storm of protest and the senate adjourned until Monday.

LAST DAY NOVEMBER TERM

Divorce Case Dismissed and Judgment Allowed by Default

Today was the last day of the November term of court, and affairs were being closed so that the books could be put into shape for next week which will be vacation. The divorce case filed recently by James G. Bennett against Mary K. Bennett was dismissed this morning, and the costs paid. In a suit on a note, filed by William L. Newbold against Austin Hyatt, the defendant defaulted, and judgment for the plaintiff was granted in the sum of $220.

Several other minor matters were disposed of today, and all closed cases were removed from the docket.

MORE FOR THE RELIEF FUND

Fifteen Dollars Added to Rush County Contribution for Europe

Fifteen dollars in additional subscriptions to the fund being raised for the European Relief Council in Rush county, have been reported by Robert E. Mansfield, who has been in charge of the movement here. This brings the total reported from this county to $1,920.55, and there is little doubt but that gifts from Rush county people are now about $2,000 because many sent contributions through other channels.

The latest subscriptions reported were $10 from John F. Cross, and $5 from Henry P. McGuire.

SHORTBRIDGE LOSES

Crawfordsville, Ind. Jan. 29.—Crowfordsville vastly strengthened by the late addition of Kirby to the squad, gained a hard-earned decision over Shortbridge of Indianapolis here tonight, 28 to 26. The first half ended with the locals leading 17 to 10.

The benefit motion picture show given this morning by W. F. Easley proprietor of the Princess theatre, and W. M. Eakins of the Mystic theatre, which was held at the Princess theatre, netted $20.50 for the Hoover relief fund for the starving children of Europe. The two local theatre owners combined the two five reel feature pictures, and the crowd that attended was far above the expectation, because of the rainy weather.

This morning 360 motion picture theatres in Indiana held benefit shows the entire amount being a part of the money subscribed by the motion picture exhibitors of the United States.

HAUGHS' TROUBLES
REVIVED IN COURTMrs. Haugh Today Files Petition Demanding Children's Custody
—Kidnapped by Father

DIVORCE WAS GRANTED HERE

The troubles of Marguerite Haugh and J. Guy Haugh of Indianapolis, who got a divorce in the Rush circuit court a few years ago, and which have frequently bobbed up since that time, were revived in court here this afternoon when John A. Tittsworth, representing Mrs. Haugh, filed a petition, in which she demanded the custody of the two children.

When Judge Sparks granted the divorce, he deemed it inadvisable to allow either one of the parents to have the custody of the children, and he placed them under the care of two Indianapolis people. It was not long until these people asked to be relieved of their charges and Judge Sparks sent the children to the Indianapolis orphan's home. One day Mr. Haugh appeared at the home and asked to take the children out for a walk, according to the story told at the time by officials of the home, and they never have been returned.

Mr. Haugh is said to be living in Indianapolis now and Mrs. Haugh is teaching French in the schools at Elwood. The alleged kidnapping of the children is set out in the petition for their custody, filed by Mrs. Haugh.

"QUIZ" MEETING
PRONOUNCED BESTQuestions Presented to Dr. L. W.
Munhall Deal Largely With Bible and Church Matters

NOT ALL OF THEM ANSWERED

Considers in Night Sermon One Excuse Used by Those Who Will Not Accept Christ

The "Quiz" meeting yesterday afternoon at St. Paul's M. E. church was by far the largest attended of any of the week-day afternoon meetings, filling the large auditorium. It lasted an hour and a half, and even then many of the questions were not even read. The questions read were of a high order and indicated that the persons asking them were intelligent and thoughtful. They largely related to Biblical matters and church problems. The meeting was a sort of theological seminar and Sunday school normal class combined. It was full of interest, suggestion and instruction.

The attendance at the night service was the largest yet save Monday night last, overflowing the auditorium and well filling the Sunday School room. It was a rousing meeting and the evangelist had unusual liberty. The scriptural lesson was in the 14th chapter of Luke—"The feast God spread for his ancient people, to which they would not come and because of which the Gentiles were bidden as represented," by "the poor and the maimed and the halt, and the blind", from among the nations—"by ways and hedges" etc.

After showing what the feast signified, he then considered in a caustic convincing and in some instances humorous manner, some of the excuses commonly used by those who will not accept invitation of the King Eternal. The unreasonableness and absurdity of these excuses were pressed home upon the unsaved in an earnest and kindly spirit.

There will be no services tonight. Tomorrow will be the closing day of the campaign so far as Dr. Munhall is concerned. He will preach at 10:30 a. m.; deliver his great and famous lecture on the Bible at 2:30 p. m. and preach at 7:00 p. m. He leaves at seven a. m. Monday for Philadelphia, stopping at Cincinnati to address the Methodist preachers meeting at 10:30 a. m.

WANTS BERGDOLL REPORT

Marvin, chief of the weather observation department for this district today issued a warning stating that a cold wave was due to arrive in this section of the state by Sunday night, when the temperature is expected to drop to 5 to 10 degrees above zero. It also was predicted that the rain today would turn to snow by night, with clearing weather by morning. The cold wave is due by tomorrow night, when in some places in the state zero may be recorded, while in this portion, it is expected to reach from 5 to 10 degrees above.

SEED CORN TESTING
BEGINS NEXT MONTHMuch Stress Will be Laid Upon Corn Testing This Year, Because of Frozen Kernels

RESULTS OF CORN SHOW

The seed corn testing plant, which was conducted last March in the court house by County Agent D. D. Ball, will again be used this year, and more stress will be laid upon testing corn, than in any previous year. The testing will begin earlier this year, so that more corn can be taken care of.

The county agent stated today that he was now ready to receive application from farmers, who wanted their corn tested. Last year many farmers took advantage of having a test made, and in order to accommodate more this year, the work will begin in February. Applications should be in early, and corn will be tested in the order that the applications are received.

The corn show, held here in December revealed the fact that there were many frozen kernels, and in order to produce more efficient ears, and increase the yield, it is advised that samples of seed corn should be tested. It is a conceded fact that the testing is worth while, the same as in testing seed wheat, and progressive agriculturists should take advantage of the chance.

FRANK CATT NAMED
FOR VICE-PRESIDENTRush County Surveyor is Re-elected at Annual Meeting of Indiana Association

WILL NOT INTRODUCE BILL

Frank Catt, Rush county surveyor, was re-elected vice-president of the Indiana County Surveyors association at the annual meeting which closed with a banquet at the Claypool hotel in Indianapolis Friday night. J. P. Johnson of Danville was elected president and J. J. Griffith of Indianapolis, secretary-treasurer.

Forty-six of the ninety-two counties in the state were represented by county surveyors, and the annual meeting was regarded as the best ever held by the association. The association had a bill drafted for presentation to the legislature, providing for a straight salary for surveyors, but because of the opposition against it, which had been expressed by members of the legislature, it will not be presented.

The meeting was held in connection with the annual conventions of the Indiana Engineering Society. Thursday evening a joint session of the Indiana society, the county surveyors, the American Society Mechanical Engineers, American Society Electrical Engineers and the Indianapolis Science Club was held.

NEW ANNOUNCES
HIS CANDIDACYIndiana Senator Addressing Indiana
Editors at Banquet, Says he Will Seek Renomination

WILL STAND ON HIS RECORD

Letters and Telegrams Expressing Regret at Being Unable to Attend—One From Sen. Watson

Indianapolis, Ind. Jan. 29.—Senator Harry S. New, in an address last night before the annual banquet of the Indiana Republican Editorial Association at the Claypool hotel, announced his candidacy for re-election as Senator from Indiana. The banquet was attended by more than 500 Indiana editors, their families and guests, and brought to a close the annual convention of the association, in session here since Thursday morning.

"I have been a senator from Indiana for four years," said Senator New. "Those years have been fraught with difficulties, and the work has been hard, but I like it well enough to come before the Republicans of this state as a candidate for re-election."

"If you think I have made good, I'm going to ask you to endorse my administration by renominating and re-electing me. If you don't think I've made good I ask nothing of you. I stand on my record and I want you to base your actions on that record."

In speaking of the results of the recent election, Senator New said: "It gave us Warren McCray, in whom we have confidence. It gave us a state Legislature in which we have confidence. I have no fear for the future of Indiana."

"There are serious and grave responsibilities imposed on the party by the election of a Republican national Congress," he continued. "It will take time to accomplish our aims. Our legislation will be slow because it must be careful. We have enormous obligations before us."

"It is of the highest importance that the business administration of the country be arranged. Congress already has started on a program of reorganization and has appointed committees to correlate the various departments of the government into more compact and more easily workable departments. The Republican Congress will devote itself to a new business plan."

In concluding, Senator New expressed his faith in President-elect Harding, declared that the President-elect was much the same in character and initiative as President McKinley.

"The faith that my intimate acquaintance with him gave me and compelled me to voice my approval of his candidacy a year ago, now leads me to believe that when he goes out of office he will leave the country in a far better condition than it ever has been," he said.

Letters expressing regret at their inability to attend the banquet were read from President-elect Harding, Vice-President-elect Coolidge and George B. Lockwood, editor of the National Republican of Washington, as were telegrams from Senator Watson and Will H. Hays, chairman of the national Republican committee. Each reading was greeted with applause.

Governor McCray, in a brief address preceeding that of Senator New, expressed his appreciation of the support of the Indiana Republican Editorial Association.

Mrs. Manly L. Fosseen of Minnesota was introduced by Senator New as "the star soprano of my recent operatic campaign".

Mrs. Fosseen declared that the recent election had proved that the women of America are equal to the rights of citizenship. She predicted a new and better era of government, and said that the present administration is going to see America become the greatest nation in the world from the point of service.

"The ideal of our great commonwealth is not that of prosperity," she said. "The new era will be one of great moral and social improvement. Service is the word in the administration of government."

RECLAIM FARMS IN FLANDERS, FIELD

Government is Offering Special Favorable Terms For the Leasing of Land For Agriculture

FARMERS ARE "LITTLE" MEN

To Develop Agriculture Authorities Subsidize Number of Practical Training Courses

By R. H. SHEFFIELD (U. P. Staff Correspondent) Brussels, Jan. 29.—Slowly, but surely, the battle-worn farms of Flanders are coming into their own again. Government is offering special favorable terms for the leasing of land for agricultural purposes, with a view to helping in this branch of national reconstruction. Belgian farmers are all "little" men; there is not a really big allotment in the kingdom. While it is true that there are spots, round about the Yser and elsewhere, that will not be available for cultivation for years, scattered up and down Flanders, are numerous farmlets which a couple of years ago, were little else than shell-plugged wastes and eeries of the carrion crow.

Quietly but effectively, the Belgian smallholder is coming back to his farm; and the Department of Agriculture is affording as much help as red tape and bureaucracy will admit. There were no leased farms in Belgium before the war. Every small holder owned his land outright. Under the revived system of leasehold farms, the government has instituted special facilities to enable ruined farmers to rent land. These impoverished people could never after their heavy war losses, hope to buy their allotment.

These small agriculturists, who have to work terribly hard to get a living out of the ungrateful soil, usually work a few acres on their own account, or, maybe, they are assisted by members of their family, and perhaps, in the busy season, by one or two, not more, hired hands.

With a determination to develop agriculture, the authorities subsidize a number of practical courses of training in the various branches of farm work. Local agricultural clubs and farmers societies are chosen for carrying out this task of technical education. Certified teachers in farming are paid for giving public lectures and demonstrations in agri and horti-culture. The government colleges at Gembloux and other places are excellently organized. Apart from this college training, there are also public free lectures, to which even the humblest have easy access, and which are often held on Sunday or other "off" days.

If agriculture has revived with remarkable strides, considering the devastation wrought by the war, it is largely due to the fact that government has recognized that farming is one of the national mainstays and, as such, must be developed by all available means. A second factor in the revival is the perseverance of the Flemish peasant. He is a success as a small-holder, because he is tenacious and is not easily disheartened by climate and soil.

8 Members in Favor of Public Service Commission and Five Want Its Abolishment

MANY ATTEND THE HEARING

(By United Press) Indianapolis, Ind., Jan. 29.—Eight members of the judiciary committee in the state house of representatives will recommend indefinite postponement of the bill which would abolish the public service commission and reestablish the railroad commission in Indiana, it was learned today.

The remaining five will sign a minority report recommending passage of the bill unless there is a change of front. The bill is before the house committee on Judiciary A, which held a public hearing last night. The house of representatives was crowded, nearly 300 persons being present.

The members of the committee who will sign the majority report recommending postponement are Representatives Davis, Chairman Bayler, Sibert, Mann, Harris, Osborne, Dailey and Johnston. The minority report recommending passage according to present alignments will be signed by Representatives Givan, Kammon, Newman and Barker of Posey county.

The divided committee report is expected to be submitted to the house next Tuesday and undoubtedly will present a fight over the question on the floor of the house.

Representative of public utilities, commercial organizations, city officials and private citizens were present at the hearing. The members of the public service commission were present also, but were silent with the exceptions when called upon to correct statements made or give additional facts.

DEMOCRATS GRAB PAY FOR FAMILIES

When Party Was in Power in House They Abused Clerk Hire Allowance Gave Themselves $2,000

GUILTY PERSONS FROM SOUTH

When Republican Majority Came into Control Declared Money Should Be Paid to Clerks

By (SNELL SMITH)

Washington, January 29.—Consternation has been caused among the Democratic members of the House of Representatives by disclosure of the fact that many of their number have been carrying their wives and other near relatives on the rolls for clerk hire.

Most of those guilty of this practice are from the Southern states, which when in control of the House prior to the present Congress held the chairmanship of nearly every important committee in both branches of the national legislature, fixed the price of Northern wheat at $2.26 per bushel and refused to place any limitation upon Southern cotton, spent $490,000,000 for army camps in the South and $200,000,000 in the fourteen states of the North, and taxed the same Southern states $291,000,000 as compared to $2,190,000,000 for the same fourteen Northern states.

Likewise when the Democrats were in power in the House they abused the clerk hire allowance voted by them in the House to such an extent that they gave themselves $2,000 each year for clerk hire; that is, they stipulated that the amount should be paid to themselves as members and not to the clerks by name. This gave them opportunity to add to their salary of $7,500 a year by paying a small amount to the clerk and retaining the remainder. In the 65th Congress, when still in full power, they increased this amount for clerk hire, payable to themselves, to $3,200. So great did the scandal become that when the Republican majority came into control in the House almost the first thing it did was to pass a joint resolution declaring that the $3,200 for clerk hire should be paid to the clerks themselves; that each member should be entitled to one or two clerks at a total of not more than that sum; that if only one clerk should be employed at $2,000 the remaining $1,000 should not accrue to the member, and that the amount not used should not become cumulative.

This put a stop to the possibility of the simple transfer of the pay fund for member's salary purposes, as each clerk was compelled to sign the roll in order to receive the amount, but it did not stop the Democrats from putting dear and needy relatives to feed at the public crib, as indicated by the following facts.

Representative William Kettner, of California, carries his wife, M. M. Kettner, on the clerk roll at $120 per month.

Representative Lucias Lazaro, of Louisiana, carries Elaine Lazaro at $120 per month.

Representative James V. McClintic, of Oklahoma carries his wife, Mrs. May McClintic at $120 per month.

Representative James McAndrews, of Illinois, carries George J. McAndrews at $136.67 per month.

Representative Thomas D. McKeown, Oklahoma, has his wife listed as A. J. McKeown and pays her $120 per month.

Representative Isaac D. McPherson, of Missouri, overdoes it. He pays Joe F. McPherson $220 per month and Jessie P. McPherson $86.67.

Representative Joseph J. Mansfield, of Texas, carries his daughter, Miss Margaret Mansfield, at $120 per month.

Representative James H. Mays, of Utah pays Arthur J. Mays $153.34.

Representative Daniel F. Minahan, of New Jersey, pays Lina Minahan $228.34 per month and Martha W. Minahan $78.34 per month.

Representative Samuel J. Nicholls, of South Carolina, pays E. C. Nicholls $120 per month.

Representative James O'Connor, of Louisiana, certifies Florence O'Connor at $186.67 and James O'Connor, Jr., at $120 per month.

Representative James W. Overstreet, of Arkansas, pays Dicie N. Oversteel $120 per month.

Representative L. P. Padgett, of Tennessee pays his wife, Mrs. Ida Padgett, $120 per month, and his daughter-in-law, Mrs. Francis C. Padgett, $186.67.

Representative Frank Park, of

Georgia, gives E. B. Park $153.34 per month.

Representative Edward W. Pou of North Carolina, gives George R. Pou $120 per month.

Representative Percy E. Quinn, of Mississippi, one of the Democratic watch dogs of the Treasury, gives his wife, A. B. Quinn $120 a month.

Representative Henry T. Rainey, of Illinois, one of the Democratic members of the Committee on Ways and Means for finding how to get enough revenue for meeting the expenses of the government has Ella M. Rainey listed for $153.34.

Representative Lennidas D. Robinson, of North Carolina, pays his brother $153.34 per month.

Representative Milton A. Romjur, of Missouri, gives his wife M. N. Romjur, $120 per month.

Representative Thetus W. Sims, of Tennessee, gives Eula McDonald, $153.34, and his daughter, M. $153.34.

And so on through Democrats bent on getting in good. Tamm in approved Wigwag representative David J. O'Connor, M. H. Zimmer $186 per month, Frank Rizzo $120 per month, says the New York Democratic paper, "has been in Washington since the was inducted into office". Representative Daniel J. Riordan carries men on the roll in the same Representative Thomas F. secretary of the "Hall", Charles J. Ackerson $186.67 month and he, too, has never been seen here.

Read the advertising columns of your daily newspaper. Here are the country's advertised products worthy goods—up for inspection.

You may depend upon them as good goods; for, if they didn't "pass muster" they would not continue to enjoy popularity. The

LOCAL BREEDERS WINNERS

Leach and Peters Take Several Prizes at Rabbit Show

Leach and Peters, local breeders of Flemish Giant rabbits, won several prizes at the rabbit show held in Indianapolis at the Tomlinson hall, January 18 to 23, according to an announcement just received by them. The breeders took first premium on dressed rabbit, and had several worthy competitions in this class; second on senior light gray buck; second on senior black doe; and fourth on senior New Zealand doe.

The premiums speak well for the Rushville men, as there were many large entries from all parts of the United States and in many of the classes the local breeders had stiff competition.

NEW ANNOUNCES HIS CANDIDACY

"The grand and solemn referendum was not a referendum—it was a riot," declared Governor Hyde of Missouri, whose address followed that of Mrs. Fosseen. "The election was not even an election—it was an election, and that election proved that the patriotism of America is of the parlor socialistic, Bolshevistic type.

Resolutions adopted at the close of the afternoon session urged a policy of economy and conservatism in conducting the present session of the state Legislature.

"The Legislature of Indiana can serve the state no better than by refusing extravagant appropriations and by setting itself resolutely against the creation of new offices and commissions, and we earnestly recommend that such proposals be rejected," read the resolution. Heartily congratulation of the country on its return to Republican power, and especially Indiana on its two United States senators was expressed in the resolution.

A defense of the zone system of postage rates was given at the afternoon session by Roy Harrold of the Rushville Republican. Mr. Harrold declared that rather than criticize the system, as most newspaper publishers are doing, the zone rates should be upheld as a benefit and protection to newspaper advertising. Following his address, the association voted unanimously to send letters to Indiana representatives in Congress, urging that the zone postage rate system be upheld.

Mr. Harrold declared that by placing zone postage rates on magazine advertising, which caused magazine publishers to raise their advertising price, the local newspaper is benefitted in that the foreign advertiser who, under the flat rate system, found it more economical to place his matter through the medium of the magazine, now advertises in number of local publications. He demonstrated that the zone system of postage effects, but slightly the advertising prices of local newspapers, while magazine publishers, who are forced to send their publications far outside of the first and second zones have had to raise advertising prices.

DUBLIN CITY OF VIOLENCE

Although Upper Current Flows Smoothly There is Undercurrent Strong and Deadly

CITIZENS ARE NERVOUS

After Long Months of Tension Nerves React Strangely to Sudden Sound or Unusual Sight

By CHARLES M. McCANN (U. P. Staff Correspondent)

Dublin, Jan. 15 (By Mail).—Dublinites were "jumpy" today. After long months of tension their nerves reacted strangely to sudden sound or unusual sight. It was not fear that controlled them, but something like the nervousness that might attack a soldier long under fire, with allowances of course, for the superior schooling and discipline of the soldier.

The soldier, however, is playing a part in the game. He fights back. Here in Dublin, the tract of fear that may be found in some citizens is the danger, real or fancied, that they are menaced as the quarry in the grim game of hare and hounds government forces are playing with the republicans.

After months of comparative freedom from violence, Dublin again has been a center for Sinn Fein and government activity and the result of the campaign is plain to be seen in the lives of the residents. Although the upper current of life flows almost as smoothly as in the old days, there is an undercurrent, strong and deadly.

There are daily shootings. Daily the number of raids are increased. Citizens are stopped on the streets and searched for arms.

Daily the violence and death are forgotten—apparently. Actually they are always before the public.

The American can visualize Dublin with its busy waterfront, its two and three story business houses rising from narrow walks and the private homes spreading away from the business center. It is a city of homes with its streets filled with strolling soldiers in British uniforms. Or the soldiers may be riding wildly through the streets in their lorries, tin hats slanted over their eyes, rifles pointed toward the sidewalks.

The newspapers, instead of spreading the news of the world before their readers, devote entire pages to proclamations, declarations of martial law, reports of ambushes, attacks, unexplained shooting and raids. General news is dispensed with except for two or three short articles chronicling outstanding events. The remaining space is filled with apparently endless lists of killed and wounded civilians, police and soldiers.

A common sight in Dublin is a lorry load of auxiliaries, green uniformed and tam o' shantered, racing down a street. Suddenly the emergency brake is jammed on. The lorry swerves and shoots at a right angle to the curb. The auxiliaries leap over the sides before the machine has stopped.

Some instantly take positions as sentries. Others fall to searching passerbys for weapons. Or they enter a business house or residence in a raid. Five or ten minutes later the raiders emerge, sometimes with piles of papers at other times they have a prisoner or two.

Some Dublinites flee at the sight of a raiding party. Others follow at safe distances and look on cautiously while the soldiers search a group of pedestrians or raid a home. Generally the nervousness inspired by the sight of the soldiers, their blunt enfields leveled over the motor's sides, is lessened by curiosity. Occasionally braver spirits walk past at a normal gait or pause nearby for a good view of the proceedings.

But at the sound of a shot there is a general melting away of the crowd. Dublin doesn't fear these things; the city is merely "jumpy."

A Record For Saving

The present congress is continuing its record of saving money for the taxpayers. During the past few years the congress has enacted three measures which will have a wide effect in this direction. One of the most important of these is the determination on the part of the house to cut out the added expense of increasing its membership from 435 as now to 483 as recommended by the census committee in accordance with the time-honored custom of each ten years increasing the membership or the same numerical basis as the previous decennial period. In 1911 the number of people in each district was 211,877. So that in the same proportion of growth of population, in 1921 the committee fixed the number at 218,986. It was pointed out by Representative Siegel, chairman of the census committee, that France has 680 members in its popular assembly, that in the British House of Commons there are 707 members and that in Italy there are 508 members. It was figured by the members of the census committee who favored the majority report that in the house chamber and in the house office building there is now sufficient room for the increase to 483 members.

But a minority of republicans on the committee, led by Representative Fairchild of Indiana, and a majority of republicans on the floor of the house, decided that the added membership would cost more money and that therefore the total of 435 should remain as it is. It was pointed out that the mileage alone of the additional membership would cost $240,000 per year, that the increase in member's salaries would be $360,000 per year, and that it would cost $4,000,000 to duplicate the present house office building in order to house them. Both majority and minority of the census committee agreed that the clerk hire amount under the new arrangement would cost $155,000 a year and that the total further expense might run up to a million dollars per annum. And so it was decided to give each member more to do during the next ten years by increasing the size of his constituency, and during that time save the tax payers something like $10,000,000.

Under the new arrangement the total number of constituents each member is to serve will be 242,415. This will be 23,420 more than would have been the case had 483 been decided upon as the proper number. Under this apportionment California will gain three new members; Michigan, two; Ohio, two and Connecticut, New Jersey, North Carolina, Texas and Washington, one each.

THE TREND of LEGISLATION

By GEO. W. STOUT
State Chamber of Commerce

Indianapolis, Jan. 29.—While Gov. McCray and his advisors are considering seriously the matter of creating by law a central board of control for Indiana's benevolent, correctional and penal institutions the executive is out with a statement declaring in effect that his administration is not committed to the plan, but that he has an open mind on the question of the proposed radical change in method.

Several states have been visited by a special committee named by Gov. McCray, and the central board of control system has been inspected and scrutinized with an eye to the possible application of the idea in the special committee returned to Indiana. There are indications that Hoosierdom somewhat impressed by the advisability of adopting the central board method here.

Institutional men in Indiana, it is said, practically without exception, strongly oppose the central board theory. While a purchasing board is good business, it is being urged that such a system of centralized, economical buying of supplies may be maintained without destroying the present humanitarian and non partisan system of conducting the state institutions.

It is being pointed out that under a board of four men at $5,000 each, a quartet of entirely new political plums would be created with centralization of the power in the new board to "control" the army of appointees, employees and attaches at all the various penal, correctional and benevolent institutions. This power or "control" is recognized as a political asset to those holding it, a good many years that such "control" has been the Indiana idea for "vested in such, a centralized body is the most dangerous and undesirable thing conceivable.

Especially is there vigorous opposition against such a centralization of political influence when it is considered that the central board of control plan would wipe out and destroy the existing system of humanitarian and nonpolitical management.

Friends of the system now in use declare it has developed in Indiana a type of strictly disinterested, humane, thoughtful, studious and loyally devoted boards fully and humanely without thought of money reward or compensation other than the glow that goes with efficient effort for humanity.

While there is not at this time any large degree of uneasiness as to the attitude of the legislature on the issue between centralized political influence and the present nonpolitical humanitarian system of management, at the same time, while the state administration's political emissaries are sounding out legislative sentiment, the friends of the existing system are on the alert.

It is pretty well understood that Gov. McCray is going through the experiences and tests that beset every new governor in the early days of executive responsibility. It is up to the new governor, as to former governors to make certain decisions vital to the well-being of the commonwealth. The legislature stands as a check when the executive gets away on the wrong foot. The executive is there to check up the doings of the law-makers when they go astray, and the supreme court is ready to point out the dangers of error in both the legislative and executive departments.

It is the usual thing for the party workers who deal mostly in politics to favor such movements as that for the proposed new state board of control. They may not be able to commit the executive to the plan, but they will not fail to exert themselves more or less to put it over.

Just at this time the politicians are active, and their efforts for the state board of control scheme are being noted in and around the legislature. Apparently the chief of these activities has been to crystallize sentiment against the central board of control system.

The governor's public avowal that he is not committed to the central board idea, but that he has an "open mind" on the subject is an indication that elements other than those favoring the change have dropped into talk things over, and that their conversational efforts have not been without effect.

In fact, the executive's statement that he had not adopted as his own the central board of control idea, followed his conference with certain institutional heads and trustees on the subject of the change.

At this time each benevolent, correctional and penal institution is directed under the control of a board composed of four members, two from each of the major political parties. These board members serve practically without pay, the salary being $200 a year and expenses while on the actual business of the institution. Those chosen are almost invariably of the best possible fitness. The jobs have no political significance and do not attract politicians. They do command the services of men and women whose minds turn instinctively to humanitarian activities and to the study of social problems. Under the existing system the standard of the institutional boards of Indiana has been maintained on a high plane of usefulness. The state has maintained a purely human contact with its unfortunate wards. A central board of control, it is asserted, would destroy this human touch.

100 FANS FROM HERE PRESENT

Visitors Set Pace Early in Game and Pile up 19 Points While Connersville is Held to 4

The Rushville high school basketball team triumphed in a double victory last night, when they handed Connersville two defeats on the floor in that city, the varsity winning 35 to 28, and the second team 14 to 12.

Two hundred Rushville fans accompanied the teams on two special cars, as well as on regular cars, and the crowd was the largest this year in the rink building in that city. Upon arrival in Connersville, a parade was made to the rink, headed by the high school band, which also went long to do "their bit."

When the games were over, another parade followed. Connersville fans were confident of taking both games because they had earlier in the season won over here, and it was a hard affair to lose, especially on their own floor.

In the big game of the evening, Rushville set the pace right at the start. Connersville had not banked on Rushville showing as much improvement, and the first seven minutes the locals had run the score up to 19 points, holding Connersville down to 4.

Coach Sutton, for several reasons which may develop later, advised his team then to slow down, and to keep the final score within ten points.

When the game first started the locals kept the ball from their opponents for three minutes, playing it back and forth along the floor. About this time Frazee was fouled and Ridge for Connersville made the first point. Then E. Headlee shot the ball through which put the game on ice for Rushville, and from this point on, a comfortable lead was maintained.

Frazee was out of luck, and within ten minutes had made three personal fouls. This had a tendency to unnerve the stalwart back guard but the game went on, and the locals would have won out anyway. Two of the fouls called on him appeared to be rather stretched by the referee, but no protest was offered.

E. Headlee, who didn't play in the game when Connersville was here back in November, took Connersville by surprise, and none of their players could head him off. He slipped the ball through from all angles on the floor, and took the home town team by storm. Of the 35 points, he made 24 of them.

A slick combination was worked with L. Headlee and Miller in the last half, and they were continually breaking through the Connersville line and worked the ball in their territory. Many easy shots were missed in this half.

In the last half Connersville worked in all of their substitutions in an effort to get ahead, but the lead was too great for them to overcome. The home town team made many shots that were mere luck, and they attempted to stage a last minute rally but the locals were too far ahead.

The two Connersville forwards, Ridge and Siler, were the individual stars and were the main point getters for their team.

The Rushville machinery worked smoothly all through the game, and all five players went through without a change.

Odd Fellows Face One of Hardest Games of Season Tuesday Night When They Come

GREENWOOD BOOKED TO PLAY

The Odd Fellows basketball team will face one of their hardest games Tuesday night on the Modern Appliance floor when the Columbus Legion team will be their opponents. This team is considered very fast, and is composed of former high school stars. Columbus has taken Connersville to task twice so their strength can be judged from those games.

The local team has won eight out of 14 games this season, and has piled up 369 points to the opponents' 288. The average number of points for each game has been 28.8.

The Odd Fellows will also journey to Carthage next Thursday night, where they will play the team from that place. This game will be played on the new "gym" floor in the community building. The Greenwood Legion team, champions of the Legion league, has been booked for a game here on February 15.

DEPAUW WINS IN LAST FEW SECONDS OF PLAY

Defeats Notre Dame Friday Night 26 to 25, With Four Goal When Game Appeared a Tie

INVADERS LEAD MOST OF WAY

Greencastle, Ind., Jan. 28.—Capt. Bob Gipson of the Tiger basketball team won the game against Notre Dame here last night with a foul goal, making the final score 26 to 25.

With the score tied and thirty seconds to go, Gipson tossed one through the net. Notre Dame took an early lead and held it until the closing minutes. They carried the first half honors 12 to 9. With four minutes to play, DePauw tied the score at 21 and then Cannon tossed a pretty field goal putting DePauw ahead for the first time.

Mehre again knotted the count with a field goal. Logan repeated for Notre Dame and White saved with a field marker. Then Capt. Gibson played the hero role and tossed the winning marker. Notre Dame played a fast game and also had DePauw guessing on the defense. Notre Dame failed to break the DePauw pass which was good for many field goals. McDermott and Mehre were the stars for Notre Dame. The former went out late in the game on fouls. Line up and summary:

SANDUSKY AND MILROY TO MEET

Final Game

7:30 Winner 2:30 game vs winner 3:30 game.

Early indications this afternoon were that Milroy and Sandusky would meet tonight in the final game, at the invitational tourney being held in Milroy today, with eight teams taking part.

In order to reach the final game tonight, it was necessary for Sandusky to defeat Fairview at 2:30 and for Milroy to defeat Letts in the last afternoon game beginning at 3:30. It was a conceded fact that Fairview would lose their game to Sandusky and that Milroy would take the game from Letts.

The crowd at the games this morning were not as large as it would have been had the weather been nice, but indications this afternoon were that the crowd tonight would more than fill the place.

In case that Sandusky and Milroy clash in the final game, it no doubt will be close, as the Decatur county team is reputed to have the best team in that county, having defeated Greensburg twice, both times by a ten point margin.

In the first round this morning four teams were eliminated from the race, when Arlington, Carthage, Burney and Moscow went down in defeat.

The drawing took place at 8:30 this morning and the four morning games were played between the following teams, Fairview against Arlington; Sandusky against Carthage; Burney against Letts and Milroy against Moscow.

In the first game, which started at nine o'clock the Arlington team put up a stiff fight against Fairview, but the latter team won, 24 to 18. The game was fast from beginning to end, but the Fairview team had the Arlington team bested on making long shots.

In the second game, a delay was experienced, when the lights went out, and the morning games were thrown behind the schedule, making the last morning game run into the noon hour.

thage, one of the strong contenders for the honors was eliminated, and the fate fell to Carthage. The final count was 16 to 10, and the game was close all the way through.

Two Decatur county teams drew lots in the third game of the morning when Burney and Letts clashed. These two teams were almost evenly matched, and the game was not won until the final whistle blew, which resulted in the victory for Letts, 10 to 7. Both of these teams had played Greensburg to a standstill before, and Letts also have won a game from Sandusky this season, which puts them well toward the front.

In the last game of the first round Milroy went against Moscow, and the home team soon gained a comfortable lead, and the victory was never in doubt. When the first half ended the score stood 32 to 6, and the final score was 60 to 19.

HAD TO BUY THE RAILROAD

High Schools are Unable to Get Specials For Games

Railroads in this part of the state must have it in for high school students, who want to charter a special train. Newcastle had made plans of chartering a special over the L. E. & W. for next Friday night, when the high school team comes here for a game, and the railroad company only wanted a guarantee of $521, or 334 round trip tickets, at the regular fare of $1.56. Recently Rushville wanted to go to Columbus on a special, and the Pennsylvania wanted an enormous guarantee, and the Big Four almost wanted the high school to buy the railroad in order to run a train down to Greensburg. Newcastle fans will come in machines anyway, it was learned.

RALEIGH SWAMPS GLENWOOD

Holds Visitors to Single Point in The Last Half

The Raleigh high school swamped the Glenwood high school last night on the floor at Raleigh, the final count being 41 to 11. The Raleigh team staged a rally in the last half, and held the visiting team to a lone point. When the first half ended the score was 15 to 10. Raleigh has been playing fast ball this season, and has a clean record on their own floor.

Much interest centers in the game next Friday night at Raleigh, when the real test of their strength will come, as the opposing team will be Carthage.

RALEIGH MAKES PROTEST

Complains to State Association of Fairview Player's Action

Two high school teams in northern Rush county have a matter before the Indiana High School Athletic association, it was learned today, when A. L. Trestor, state secretary, addressed letters to the coaches of the Fairview and Raleigh teams. Mr. Trestor stated that the Raleigh team has issued a protest against Fairview, as the outgrowth of an incident when the two teams played of the Raleigh floor. According to Mr. Trestor, one of the Fairview players grabbed the referee, after a decision had been made. The Fairview team lost the game by one point. The complaint was registered by Raleigh, and each team will be compelled to relate the incident, and a decision will be reached by the state athletic board.

GUY BATES POST

AN EPOCH-making event in the annals of American amusements is the presentation by Richard Walton Tully of the virile, compelling, accomplished, American actor, GUY BATES POST, in the iridescent bubble of modern humanity, "THE MASQUERADER." This dramatic masterpiece by John Hunter B. Booth, taken from the widely-read novel of Katherine Cecil Thurston, intimately illustrates the lives of two men who met in the fog and traded identities and living quarters.

THE DUAL CHARACTERIZATION offers Mr. Post a wonderful opportunity and the contrasted characters are impersonated by him with all the art of a genius mind. His drug fiend is a pitiful wretch, his Loder, the "man," the mental and moral antithesis of the other.

MORE INTENSELY and artistically interesting than Jekyll and Hyde—more massive in presentation than any modern play, and yet, so deftly done, its ponderous scenes move with the smooth rapidity of an uninterrupted panorama, and that is what this wonderful play is—A LIVING, MOVING, TALKING PANORAMIC REFLEX OF THE WARP AND WOOF OF HUMANITY.

The Most Ponderous of All Modern Plays, Pulsating with the Element that Comprises "Life," Presented in

Blanche Sweet Coming

Blanche Sweet was so impressed with the possibilities for superb acting when she read the script for "Simple Souls", her latest Jesse D. Hampton production, that she personally insisted that every step be taken to secure the very best actors obtainable for her supporting cast.

As a result, careful thought was given by the casting director to the individual members of the company, and an exceptionally strong aggregation of film players appears in the picture with her.

Charles Meredith, one of the screen's most popular leading men, is cast in the leading role. Other well-known players are Herbert Standing, Mayme Keso, Kate Lester, Herbert Grimwood, Frederick Huntley, Aaron Edwards and Oliver Brobst.

"Simple Souls" is the Pathe special feature showing Monday and Tuesday at the Mystic Theatre.

Kerrigan at Princess

"No. 99" is the newest treat awaiting local picture-lovers who delight in viewing fascinating J. Warren Kerrigan disport on the silver sheet in his unmatchable style. The popular star's new Brunton picture rated the finest of his W. W. Hodkinson releases to date is the attraction today at the Princess Theatre.

Arthur Penryn, a convict from Sing Sing who has been unjustly sentenced, escapes. He hides himself in Cynthia Vivian's boudoir, where she discovers him. Her sympathies are enlisted, and she suggests that he remain in hiding at her home, posing as Phillip Valentine, a friend of her brother, who is absent. He becomes a guest in the house, which is closely watched by armed guards. At this house party are John Brandt, the man who sent Arthur to jail, and Renee Etherington, an old love of Arthur's. Arthur intimidates Brandt into silence, and Renee does not hand him over to the authorities because she still loves him. Brandt is a suitor for Cynthia's hand, but Arthur and Cynthia quickly fall in love.

The butler announces the real Phillip Valentine, and Arthur, has him locked in the garage. Suspensions are aroused when Arthur is caught with a tray of food for Valentine. Just as officers are about to discover Valentine, Arthur and Cynthia jump into a sedan and speed away. Arthur drives to the man whom Brandt paid to "frame" Arthur, and send him to jail. He forces the fellow to inform on Brandt. Brandt instead of Arthur, is placed under arrest. Arthur turns out to be the son of Henry Penryn, the coal baron. And with his trouble at an end the handsome hero eaves to begin life anew with Cynthia.

Sugar Gives Off Sparks.

A queer phenomenon has recently come to the notice of Washington scientists. Disks of loaf sugar mounted on a rapidly rotating lathe while a hammer beat lightly against them were seen to give off a continuous light that has not been satisfactorily explained.

The W. R. C. Penny Social will meet Tuesday at the home of Mrs. Margaret English, 328 West Second street. It will be an all day meeting and a pitch-in dinner will be served at noon. All members of the club are invited to attend.

Mr. and Mrs. Henry Alsop will be host and hostess for the members of the Progressive Boosters Sunday School class of the First Baptist church Tuesday evening at their home in Cerro Gordo street. All members of the class are cordially invited to attend.

The Monday Circle will be entertained Monday afternoon at the home of Mrs. B. F. Miller in North Morgan street, instead of at the home of Mrs. Allen as stated in the program. At this meeting the club will take up the study of Latin American literature and Mrs. J. B. Kinsinger will give a paper on "The Poets;" and Mrs. Cullen Sexton will prepare a talk on "Three Plays From Argentine."

The Ladies Aid Society of the Glenwood M. E. church enjoyed a delicious pitch-in supper and entertainment last evening at the church. Following the bountiful supper which was served in the basement of the church, the ladies went to the auditorium of the building where the entertainment was given. Each lady who pledged themselves to earn one dollar for the benefit of the society, turned in their money last night and in doing so had to give a piece of poetry telling how they earned the money. Readings and music composed the remainder of the entertainment. A social hour was enjoyed at the close of the program.

The Dunning Music Study Club held its regular monthly meeting Friday evening at the home of Donald Dean. The leaders for the evening were Donald Dean and Eugene Engle. A delightful program was rendered consisting of solos, duets and trios. Max Engle of Morristown pleased all present with a violin solo accompanied on the piano by his brother Eugene. Mrs. Will Meredith gave an interesting account of the national convention of music teachers which met in Chicago in December. Following the program a musical contest was a feature of the evening, after which light refreshments were served. A large number of the parents of the children were present as guests.

Miss Roxie Kuhn of Arlington delightfully entertained with a prettily appointed party last evening, honoring her seventeenth birthday. The guests enjoyed the evening playing games and with music, and at the close of the party dainty refreshments were served. The guests included Mr. and Mrs. Roy Lucas, the Misses Velma Ronan, Florence Schaffer, Zella Hutchinson, Maud Woods, Iris and Lucille Gardner, Irene Addison, Mabel Lee, Nina Seward, Emma Allison, Mildred Woods, and Zelma Hoffmann of Indianapolis and Frank Coons, Marvin Rigsbee, Lee Mitchell, Omer Cooley, Donald Long, Herbert Kuhn, Lowell Offutt, Donald Birt, Lowell Hutchinson, Russell Macy, Roy Nelson, Dr. and Mrs. A. G. Shauck.

URGES FEEDING OF BIRDS

G. N. Mannfeld Asks Cooperation of Fish and Game Association

Indianapolis, Ind., Jan. 29—A sudden drop in temperature makes it difficult for birds to procure food and water and unless citizens assist in carrying for them during the cold spell many will die from hunger and thirst, it was pointed out today by officials of the state department of conservation. George N. Mannfeld, superintendent of fish and game, sent a message to the secretaries of 110 fish and game protective associations asking their cooperation. He suggested that grain be scattered and bits of suet thrown out as many birds prefer the latter in extreme cold weather. Farmers now recognize the economic value of birds as destroyers of insect life and weed seeds, and in many localities are generally first to give aid in such emergencies.

Measuring Fixed Stars.

For many years it was thought impossible to measure the fixed stars. The ablest astronomers, with the best glasses, tried and failed. When the final triumph came it was not some fiery orb that attracted the most attention to itself whose distance from the sun was found, but an insignificant sixth magnitude star not far from Deneb, which had only its number, 61 Cygni, for a name.

Sometimes in front just under the heart, sometimes around under the left side, under the ribs behind the heart it's a sharp or acute pain; sometimes a dull heavy pain, leaving soreness. It's gas on the inside generated through gaseous foods, or, because of systematic inability to properly assimilate the food, this gas soon collecting, forms a lump that causes the pain. This is only one of a dozen different indications which PEPSINCO immediately relieves. Keep PEPSINCO handy and take it the next time.

WOULD CREATE NEW STATE SERVICE

Appropriation Bill For $95,000 For Conservation Department is Likely to Pass

WILL SERVE TWO PURPOSES

Most Would be Made for Establishment of Topographic Divisions Which is Needed

Indianapolis, Ind., Jan. 29—Members of the Indiana legislature are seriously considering the appropriation of $95,000 for the state department of conservation embodied in the appropriation bill. Of this sum, $35,000 is to be used by the department in creating and operating a new division of the department to be known as the Topographic Division.

This division would deal with the mapping of Indiana and a survey of the state's natural resources and would be aided in its work by the United States government. Topographical Survey with financial assistance such as the government is giving other states.

Indiana is the only state which does not now have a department of topography according to Dr. W. N. Logan, state geologist.

"The necessity for a complete topographical survey of Indiana seems imperative", Dr. Logan said. "Almost every line of industrial development utilizing the natural resources of Indiana are dependent upon the information contained in a topographical map and where such information is not at hand, it must be obtained at a great expense and generally to the discouragement of industry."

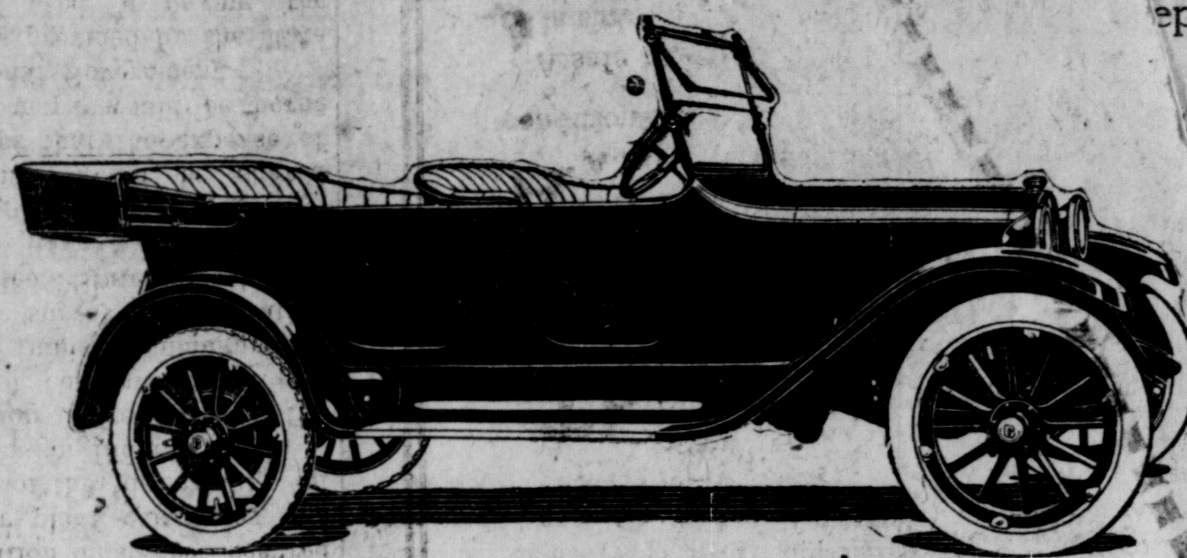

The farmer is aided by the topographic map, Dr. Logan said, because it shows the relation of his land to drainage, ditches, streams or lakes. It will give him data essential to determine the depth of water bearing strata and of coal veins if any should be on his land. It also gives him the necessary profile for the establishment of drainage ditches and roads on the farm, Dr. Logan added.

A topographic survey of Indiana would benefit the railroads, coal mining, interests, quarry industries, the gas and oil industries, geological work and soil work and would assist in determining land values, he said.

The cost of mapping the state topographically, he concluded, would be about $966,000 according to the figures of the department in comparison with the size of the quadrangles of the state.

The people of the state seem to have forgotten the disastrous flood of 1913 he says. Dr. Logan points out that the people of Ohio have not forgotten, or are they likely to forget, for $25,000,000 are being spent by Miami Conservancy at Dayton in order to prevent another flood like the one of 1913 from ever flooding Dayton.

Presenting argument to support the claim that Indiana should not longer delay this work so important to future industrial and agricultural development, Dr. Logan says:

"We have no assurance that the disastrous flood of 1913 will not be repeated in Indiana. In fact the consensus of opinion is that by robbing our water sheds of their growths of timber we have invited frequent floods. However, this may be, we have not taken the preliminary steps toward flood prevention. The first step to be taken in any flood prevention is to have made accurate topographic maps of all water sheds. This is a preliminary and essential step in all flood prevention programs. When these maps are completed the amount of all flood water is easily computed for each drainage basin as all of the streams and the areas drained by them are located and the fall of each stream is indicated as well as suitable sites for impounding structures.

"The value of the property lost in the flood of 1913 in Indiana was enough to more than pay the expenses of making a topographic map of the entire state. If ever any worth while work of flood prevention is done in Indiana, it must be preceded by a topographic survey.

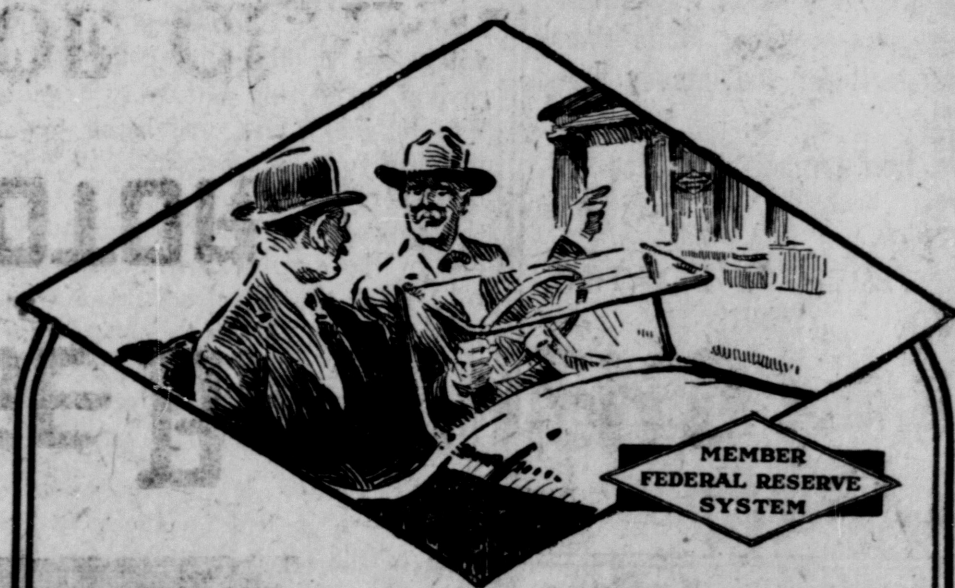

"The power requirements of Indiana are at the present time about one and one half million horse power. All except an almost infinitesimal amount is produced by the consumption of our fuel resources. No more than 10% of Indiana's potential water power has been developed. The most favorable locations for water power plants in Indiana will not be definitely known until preliminary surveys have been made and no plants can be established without the preparation of detailed maps of the drainage areas.

"The topographic map furnishes the necessary data for determination of plant site area of run-off, position of lakes and streams and the essential facts necessary to the engineer for making his estimates. This information must be secured before power plant companies can be convinced of the desirability of plant locations in Indiana.

"The division of geology of the department of conservation is trying to secure funds for inaugurating a topographic survey in cooperation with the United States Geological Survey.

According to the plan of cooperation the expenses would be shared equally except that the expense of printing the maps would be borne by the National Government.

"The funds provided by the state would all be used in paying the actual field expenses of the men engaged in the work. None of the funds would be used for paying the salaries of any of the employees of the division of geology, but would be used to defray the field expenses of the Federal employees. No member of the division of geology or of the conservation department would profit to the extent of one dollar by the requested appropriation.

APPROPRIATION BILLS GO OVER

Delays Action Today Until Next Week Due to Charge of "Railroading"

"ANTIS" CONTROL ACTION

Main Fight Comes When Nejd Moves Bill by Special Order of Business Wednesday

(By United Press)
Indianapolis, Jan. 29.—Charges that certain members of the senate were attempting to "railroad" the appropriation bills, carrying $5,808,120 and a provision that the governor may discharge any employee or commissioned member in the state house, resulted today in the consideration of the bill going over until next week.

The senate convened with just a quorum present, thus putting the "antis" on the republican side in a position to block every move of the "regular members".

The main fight came when Senator Nejd of Lake county moved to make the appropriation bill a special order of business for next Wednesday. The motion was tabled. Senator Duncan, of Cloverdale, moved that the rules be suspended and the bill be subject to passage.

Opposition to the senator's proposal from every corner of the room and he finally withdrew it. Following withdrawal of the motion by Senator Duncan, the presiding officer without having taken a vote on the suspension of the rule, moved the bill up for second reading.

Senator Nejd, after being refused recognition by the chair several times, objected that the rules were not being upheld. He called attention to the fact that when a bill comes out of the senate that it must be printed and laid on the desk of the senator for twenty-four hours before it can be brought up for second reading. His objection was sustained.

Senator Duncan then reinforced his bill to suspend the rules but withdrew it again under a storm of protest and the senate adjourned until Monday.

Today was the last day of the November term of court, and affairs were being closed so that the books could be put into shape for next week which will be vacation. The divorce case filed recently by James G. Bennett against Mary K. Bennett was dismissed this morning, and the costs paid. In a suit on a note, filed by William L. Newbold against Austin Hyatt, the defendant defaulted, and judgment for the plaintiff was granted in the sum of $220.

Several other minor matters were disposed of today, and all closed cases were removed from the docket.

MORE FOR THE RELIEF FUND

Fifteen Dollars Added to Rush County Contribution for Europe

Fifteen dollars in additional subscriptions to the fund being raised for the European Relief Council in Rush county, have been reported by Robert E. Mansfield, who has been in charge of the movement here. This brings the total reported from this county to $1,920.55, and there is little doubt but that gifts from Rush county people are now about $2,000 because many sent contributions through other channels.

The latest subscriptions reported were $10 from John F. Cross and $5 from Henry P. McGuire.

Combined Performance This Morning for European Relief Fund

The benefit motion picture show given this morning by W. F. Easley proprietor of the Princess theatre, and W. M. Eakins of the Mystic theatre, which was held at the Princess theatre, netted $20.50 for the Hoover relief fund for the starving children of Europe. The two local theatre owners combined the two five reel feature pictures, and the crowd that attended was far above the expectation, because of the rainy weather.

This morning 360 motion picture theatres in Indiana held benefit shows the entire amount being a part of the money subscribed by the motion picture exhibitors of the United States.

HAUGHS' TROUBLES REVIVED IN COURT

Mrs. Haugh Today Files Petition Demanding Children's Custody—Kidnapped by Father

DIVORCE WAS GRANTED HERE

The troubles of Marguerite Haugh and J. Guy Haugh of Indianapolis, who got a divorce in the Rush circuit court a few years ago, and which have frequently bobbed up since that time, were revived in court here this afternoon when John A. Tittsworth, representing Mrs. Haugh, filed a petition in which she demanded the custody of the two children.

When Judge Sparks granted the divorce, he deemed it inadvisable to allow either one of the parents to have the custody of the children, and he placed them under the care of two Indianapolis people. It was not long until these people asked to be relieved of their charges and Judge Sparks sent the children to the Indianapolis orphan's home. One day Mr. Haugh appeared at the home and asked to take the children out for a walk, according to the story told at the time by officials of the home, and they never have been returned.

Mr. Haugh is said to be living in Indianapolis now and Mrs. Haugh is teaching French in the schools at Elwood. The alleged kidnapping of the children is set out in the petition for their custody, filed by Mrs. Haugh.

"QUIZ" MEETING PRONOUNCED BEST

Questions Presented to Dr. L. W. Munhall Deal Largely With Bible and Church Matters

NOT ALL OF THEM ANSWERED

Considers in Night Sermon One Excuse Used by Those Who Will Not Accept Christ

The "Quiz" meeting yesterday afternoon at St. Paul's M. E. church was by far the largest attended of any of the week-day afternoon meetings, filling the large auditorium. It lasted an hour and a half, and even then many of the questions were not even read. The questions read were of a high order and indicated that the persons asking them were intelligent and thoughtful. They largely related to Biblical matters and church problems. The meeting was a sort of theological seminar and Sunday school normal class combined. It was full of interest, suggestion and instruction.

The attendance at the night service was the largest yet save Monday night last, overflowing the auditorium and well filling the Sunday School room. It was a rousing meeting and the evangelist had unusual liberty. The scriptural lesson was in the 14th chapter of Luke—"The feast God spread for his ancient people, to which they would not come and because of which the Gentiles were bidden as represented," by "the poor and the maimed and the halt, and the blind", from among the nations—"by ways and hedges" etc.

After showing what the feast signified, he then considered in a convincing and in some instances humorous manner, some of the excuses commonly used by those who will not accept invitation of the King Eternal. The unreasonableness and absurdity of these excuses were pressed home upon the unsaved in an earnest and kindly spirit.

There will be no services tonight. Tomorrow will be the closing day of the campaign so far as Dr. Munhall is concerned. He will preach at 10:30 a. m.; deliver his great and famous lecture on the Bible at 2:30 p. m. and preach at 7:00 p. m. He leaves at seven a. m. Monday for Philadelphia, stopping at Cincinnati to address the Methodist preachers meeting at 10:30 a. m.

COLD WAVE IS PREDICTED

Temperature Will Reach to Almost Zero by Sunday Night

Charles F. Marvin, chief of the weather observation department for this district today issued a warning stating that a cold wave was due to arrive in this section of the state by Sunday night, when the temperature is expected to drop to 5 to 10 degrees above zero. It also was predicted that the rain today would turn to snow by night, with clearing weather by morning. The cold wave is due by tomorrow night, when in some places in the state zero may be recorded, while in this portion, it is expected to reach from 5 to 10 degrees above.

SEED CORN TESTING BEGINS NEXT MONTH

Much Stress Will be Laid Upon Corn Testing This Year, Because of Frozen Kernels

RESULTS OF CORN SHOW

The seed corn testing plant, which was conducted last March in the court house by County Agent D. D. Ball, will again be used this year, and more stress will be laid upon testing corn, than in any previous year. The testing will begin earlier this year, so that more corn can be taken care of.

The county agent stated today that he was now ready to receive application from farmers, who wanted their corn tested. Last year many farmers took advantage of having a test made, and in order to accommodate more this year, the work will begin in February. Applications should be in early, and corn will be tested in the order that the applications are received.

The corn show, held here in December, revealed the fact that there were many frozen kernels, and in order to produce more efficient ears, and increase the yield, it is advised that samples of seed corn should be tested. It is a conceded fact that the testing is worth while, the same as in testing seed wheat, and progressive agriculturists should take advantage of the chance.

FRANK CATT NAMED FOR VICE-PRESIDENT

Rush County Surveyor is Re-elected at Annual Meeting of Indiana Association

WILL NOT INTRODUCE BILL

Frank Catt, Rush county surveyor, was re-elected vice-president of the Indiana County Surveyors association at the annual meeting which closed with a banquet at the Claypool hotel in Indianapolis Friday night. J. P. Johnson of Danville was elected president, and J. J. Griffith of Indianapolis, secretary-treasurer.

Forty-six of the ninety-two counties in the state were represented by county surveyors, and the annual meeting was regarded as the best ever held by the association. The association had a bill drafted for presentation to the legislature, providing for a straight salary for surveyors, but because of the opposition against it, which had been expressed by members of the legislature, it will not be presented.

The meeting was held in connection with the annual conventions of the Indiana Engineering Society. Thursday evening a joint session of the Indiana society, the county surveyors, the American Society Mechanical Engineers, American Society Electrical Engineers and the Indianapolis Science Club was held.

NEW ANNOUNCES HIS CANDIDACY

Indiana Senator Addressing Indiana Editors at Banquet Says He Will Seek Renomination

WILL STAND ON HIS RECORD

Letters and Telegrams Expressing Regret at Being Unable to Attend—One From Sen. Watson

Indianapolis, Ind. Jan. 29.—Senator Harry S. New, in an address last night before the annual banquet of the Indiana Republican Editorial Association at the Claypool hotel, announced his candidacy for re-election as Senator from Indiana. The banquet was attended by more than 500 Indiana editors, their families and guests, and brought to a close the annual convention of the association, in session here since Thursday morning.

"I have been a senator from Indiana for four years", said Senator New. "Those years have been fraught with difficulties, and the work has been hard, but I like it well enough to come before the Republicans of this state as a candidate for re-election."

"If you think I have made good, I'm going to ask you to endorse my administration by renominating and re-electing me. If you don't think I've made good I ask nothing of you. I stand on my record, and I want you to base your actions on that record."

In speaking of the results of the recent election, Senator New said: "It gave us Warren McCray, in whom we have confidence. It gave us a state Legislature in which we have confidence. I have no fear for the future of Indiana."

"There are serious and grave responsibilities imposed on the party by the election of a Republican national Congress," he continued. "It will take time to accomplish our aims. Our legislation will be slow because it must be careful. We have enormous obligations before us."

"It is of the highest importance that the business administration of the country be arranged. Congress already has started on a program of reorganization and has appointed committees to correlate the various departments of the government into more compact and more easily workable departments. The Republican Congress will devote itself to a new business plan."

In concluding, Senator New expressed his faith in President-elect Harding, declared that the President-elect was much the same in character and initiative as President McKinley.

"The faith that my intimate acquaintance with him gave me, and, compelled me to voice my approval of his candidacy a year ago, now leads me to believe that when he goes out of office he will leave the country in a far better condition than it ever has been," he said.

Letters expressing regret at their inability to attend the banquet were read from President-elect Harding, Vice-President-elect Coolidge and George B. Lockwood, editor of the National Republican of Washington, as were telegrams from Senator Watson and Will H. Hays, chairman of the national Republican committee. Each reading was greeted with applause.

Governor McCray, in a brief address preceding that of Senator New, expressed his appreciation of the support of the Indiana Republican Editorial Association.

Mrs. Manly H. Fosseen of Minnesota was introduced by Senator New as "the star soprano of my recent operatic campaign."

Mrs. Fosseen declared that the recent election had proved that the women of America are equal to the rights of citizenship. She predicted a new and better era of government, and said that the present administration is going to see America become the greatest nation in the world from the point of service.

"The ideal of our great commonwealth is not that of prosperity," she said. "The new era will be one of great moral and social improvement. Service is the word in the administration of government."

Government is Offering Special Pay-

of Land For Agriculture

FARMERS ARE "LITTLE" MEN

To Develop Agriculture Authorities
Subsidize Number of Practical

By R. H. SHEFFIELD
(U. P. Staff Correspondent)
Brussels, Jan. 29.—Slowly, but surely, the "little" men of Flanders are coming into their own again. Government is offering special favorable terms for the leasing of land for agricultural purposes, with a view to helping in this branch of national reconstruction. Belgian farmers are all "little" men; there is not a really big allotment in the kingdom. While it is true that there are spots round about the Yser and elsewhere, that will not be available for cultivation for years, scattered up and down Flanders, are numerous farmlets which a couple of years ago, were little else than shell-plugged wastes and scenes of the carnage.

Quietly but effectively, the Belgian smallholder is coming back to his farm; and the Department of Agriculture is affording as much help as red tape and bureaucracy will permit. There were no leased farms in Belgium before the war. Every smallholder owned his land outright. Under the revived system of household farms, the government has instituted special facilities to enable ruined farmers to rent land. These impoverished people could never after their heavy war losses, hope to buy their allotment.

These small agriculturists, who have to work terribly hard to get a living out of the ungrateful soil, usually work a few acres on their own account, or, maybe, they are assisted by members of their family, and perhaps, in the busy season, by one or two, not more, hired hands.

With a determination to develop agriculture, the authorities subsidize a number of practical courses and training in the various branches of farm work. Local agricultural clubs and farmers societies are chosen for carrying out this task of technical education. Certified teachers in farming are paid for giving public lectures and demonstrations in agri and horti-culture. The government colleges at Gembloux and other places are excellently organized. Apart from this college training, there are also public free lectures, to which even the humblest have easy access, and which are often held on Sunday or other "off" days.

If agriculture has revived with remarkable strides, considering the devastation wrought by the war, it is largely due to the fact that government has recognized that farming is one of the national mainstays and, as such, must be developed by all available means. A second factor in the revival is the perseverance of the Flemish peasant. He is a success as a small-holder, because he is tenacious and is not easily disheartened by climate and soil.

3 Members in Favor of Public Service Commission and Five Want Its Abolishment

MANY ATTEND THE HEARING

(By United Press)
Indianapolis, Ind., Jan. 29.—Eight members of the judiciary committee in the state house of representatives will recommend indefinite postponement of the bill which would abolish the public service commission and reestablish the railroad commission in Indiana, it was learned today.

The remaining five will sign a minority report recommending passage of the bill unless there is a change of front. The bill is before the house committee on Judiciary A, which held a public hearing last night. The house of representatives was crowded, nearly 300 persons being present.

The members of the committee who will sign the majority report recommending postponement are Representatives Davis, Chairman Bayler, Sibert, Mann, Harris, Osborne, Dailey and Johnston. The minority report recommending passage according to present alignments will be signed by Representatives Givan, Kammon, Newman and Barker of Posey county.

The divided committee report is expected to be submitted to the house next Tuesday and undoubtedly will present a fight over the question on the floor of the house.

Which Party Was in Power in House They Abused Clerk Hire Allow-Gave Themselves $2,000

GUILTY PERSONS FROM SOUTH

When Republican Majority Came into Control Disparage Money Should Be Paid to Clerks

By (SNELL SMITH)

Washington, January 29.—Consternation has been caused among the Democratic members of the House of Representatives by disclosure of the fact that many of their number have been carrying their wives and other near relatives on the rolls for clerk hire.

Most of those guilty of this practice are from the Southern states, which when in control of the House prior to the present Congress held the chairmanship of nearly every important committee in both branches of the national legislature, fixed the price of Northern wheat at $2.26 per bushel and refused to place any limitation upon Southern cotton, spent $490,000,000 for army camps in the South and $200,000,000 in the fourteen states of the North, and taxed the same Southern states $201,000,000, as compared to $2,190,000,000 for the same fourteen Northern states.

Likewise when the Democrats were in power in the House they abused the clerk hire allowance voted by them in the House to such an extent that they gave themselves $2,000 each year for clerk hire; that is, they stipulated that the amount should be paid to themselves as members and not to the clerks by name. This gave them opportunity to add to their salary of $7,500 a year by paying a small amount to the clerk and retaining the remainder. In the 65th Congress, when still in full power, they increased this amount for clerk hire, payable to themselves, to $3,200. So great did the scandal become that when the Republican majority came into control in the House almost the first thing it did was to pass a joint resolution declaring that the $3,200 for clerk hire should be paid to the clerk himself, that each member should be entitled to one or two clerks at a total of not more than that sum; that if only one clerk should be employed at $2,000, the remaining $1,000 should not accrue to the member, and that the amount not used should not become cumulative.

This put a stop to the possibility of the simple transfer of the pay fund for member's salary purposes, as each clerk was compelled to sign the roll in order to receive the amount, but it did not stop the Democrats from putting dear and ready relatives to feed at the public crib, as indicated by the following facts.

Representative William Kettner, of California, carries his wife, M. M. Kettner, on the clerk roll at $120 per month.

Representative Laciolas Lazaro, of Louisiana, carries Elaine Lazaro at $120 per month.

Representative James V. McClintic, of Oklahoma, carries his wife, Mrs. May McClintic, at $120 per month.

Representative James McAndrews, of Illinois, carries George J. McAndrews at $136.67 per month.

Representative Thomas D. McKeown, of Oklahoma, has his wife listed as A. J. McKeown and pays her $120 per month.

Representative Isaac D. McPherson, of Missouri, overdoes it. He pays Joe F. McPherson $220 per month and Jessie P. McPherson $86.67.

Representative Joseph J. Mansfield, of Texas, carries his daughter, Miss Margaret Mansfield, at $120 per month.

Representative James H. Mays, of Utah, pays Arthur J. Mays $153.34.

Representative Daniel F. Minahan, of New Jersey, pays Lana Minahan $228.34 per month and Martha W. Minahan $78.34 per month.

Representative Samuel J. Nicholls, of South Carolina, pays E. C. Nicholls $120 per month.

Representative James O'Connor, of Louisiana, certifies Florence O'Connor at $180.67 and James O'Connor, Jr. at $120 per month.

Representative James W. Overstreet, of Arkansas, pays Dicie N. Overstreet $120 per month.

Representative L. P. Padgett, of Tennessee, pays his wife, Mrs. Ida Padgett, $120 per month, and his daughter-in-law, Mrs. Francis C. Padgett, $186.67.

Representative Frank Park, of

Georgia, gives E. B. Park $153.34 per month.

Representative Edward W. Pou of North Carolina gives George R. Pou $120 per month.

Representative Percy E. Quinn, of Mississippi, one of the Democratic watch dogs of the Treasury, gives his wife, A. B. Quinn $120 a month.

Representative Henry T. Rainey, of Illinois, one of the Democratic members of the Committee on Ways and Means for finding how to get enough revenue for meeting the expenses of the government has Ella M. Rainey listed for $153.34.

Representative Leandras D. Robinson, of North Carolina, pays his brother $153.34 per month.

Representative Milton A. Romjur, of Missouri, gives his wife M. N. Romjur, $120 per month.

Representative Thetus W. Sims, of Tennessee, gives Eula McDonald, $120 per month, and his daughter, M. McDonald, $153.34.

And so on through the list. Democrats bent on getting in good Tammany in approved Wigwam representative David J. O'Connor, M. H. Zimmer $186 per month, Frank Rizzo $120 per month, says the New York Democratic paper, "has been in Washington since the was inducted into office". Representative Daniel J. Riordan, carried men on the roll in the same Representative Thomas P. secretary of the "Hall" Charles J. Ackerson, $186.67 month and he, too, has never been seen here.

Read the advertising columns of your daily newspaper. Here are the country's advertised products—worthy goods—up for inspection.

You may depend upon them as good goods; for, if they didn't pass muster they would not continue to enjoy popularity. The public would not buy them and the newspaper would not take their advertising, even if they had the money to spend for it.

Choosing merchandise through newspaper advertising is buying reduced to an efficiency basis.

When you go to your merchant or phone for goods to be delivered there need be no delay or indecision as in the olden days. You buy with your mind made up as to the worth of goods that face the spotlight of public scrutiny and are not found faulty.

LOCAL BREEDERS WINNERS

Leach and Peters Take Several Prizes at Rabbit Show

Leach and Peters, local breeders of Flemish Giant rabbits, won several prizes at the rabbit show held in Indianapolis at the Tomlinson Hall, January 18 to 23, according to an announcement just received by them. The breeders took first premium on dressed rabbit, and had several worthy competitions in this class; second on senior light gray buck; second on senior black doe; and fourth on senior New Zealand doe.

The premiums speak well for the Rushville men, as there were many large entries from all parts of the United States and in many of the classes the local breeders had stiff competition.

The grand and solemn referendum was not a referendum—it was a riot, declared Governor Hyde of Missouri, whose address followed that of Mrs. Fosshee. The election was not even an election—it was an election, and that election proved that the patriotism of America is of the cornfield variety and not of the party, socialistic, Bolshevik type. Resolutions adopted at the close of the afternoon session urged a policy of economy and conservatism in conducting the present session of the state Legislature.

The Legislature of Indiana can serve the state no better than by refusing extravagant appropriations and by setting itself resolutely against the creation of new offices and commissions, and we earnestly recommend that such proposals be rejected, read the resolution. Hear its congratulation of the country on its return to Republican power, and especially Indiana on its two United States senators was expressed in the resolution.

A defense of the zone system of postage rates was given at the afternoon session by Roy Harold of the Rushville Republican. Mr. Harold declared that rather than criticize the system, as most newspaper publishers are doing, the zone rates should be upheld as a benefit and protection to newspaper advertising. Following his address, the association voted unanimously to send letters to Indiana representatives in Congress, urging that the zone postage rate system be upheld.

Mr. Harold declared that by placing zone postage rates on magazine advertising, which caused magazine publishers to raise their advertising price, the local newspaper is benefitted in that the foreign advertiser who, under the flat rate system, found it more economical to place his matter through the medium of the magazine, now advertises in number of local publications. He demonstrated that the zone system of postage effects, but slightly the advertising prices of local newspapers, while magazine publishers, who are forced to send their publications far outside of the first and second zones have had to raise advertising prices.

CITIZENS ARE NERVOUS

After Long Months of Tension Nerves React Strangely to Sudden Sound or Unusual Sight

By CHARLES M. McCANN
(U. P. Staff Correspondent)

Dublin, Jan. 15 (By Mail).—Dublinites were "jumpy" today. After long months of tension their nerves reacted strangely to sudden sound or unusual sight. It was not fear that controlled them, but something like the nervousness that might attack a soldier long under fire, with allowances of course, for the superior schooling and discipline of the soldier.

The soldier, however, is playing a part in the game. He fights back. Here in Dublin, the tract of fear that may be found in some citizens is the danger, real or fancied, that they are menaced as the quarry in the grim game of hare and hounds government forces are playing with the republicans.

After months of comparative freedom from violence, Dublin again has been a center for Sinn Féin and government activity and the result of the campaign is plain to be seen in the lives of the residents. Although the upper current of life flows almost as smoothly as in the old days, there is an undercurrent, strong and deadly.

There are daily shootings. Daily the number of raids are increased. Citizens are stopped on the streets and searched for arms.

Daily the violence and death are forgotten—apparently. Actually they are always before the public.

The American can visualize Dublin with its busy waterfront, its brick and cobbled pavements, its two and three story business houses rising from narrow walks and the private homes spreading away from the business center. It is a city of homes with its streets filled with strolling soldiers in British uniforms. Or the soldiers may be riding wildly through the streets in their lorries, tin hats slanted over their eyes, rifles pointed toward the sidewalks.

The newspapers, instead of spreading the news of the world before their readers, devote entire pages to proclamations, declarations of martial law, reports of ambushes, attacks, unexplained shooting and raids. General news is dispensed with except for two or three short articles chronicling outstanding events. The remaining space is filled with apparently endless lists of killed and wounded civilians, police and soldiers.

A common sight in Dublin is a lorry load of auxiliaries, green uniformed and tam o' shantered, racing down a street. Suddenly the emergency brake is jammed on. The lorry swerves and shoots at a right angle to the curb. The auxiliaries leap over the sides before the machine has stopped.

Some instantly take positions as sentries. Others fall to searching passerbys for weapons. Or they enter a business house or residence in a raid. Five or ten minutes later the raiders emerge, sometimes with piles of papers at other times they have a prisoner or two.

Some Dublinites flee at the sight of a raiding party. Others follow at safe distances and look on cautiously while the soldiers search a group of pedestrians or raid a home. Generally the nervousness inspired by the sight of the soldiers, their blunt enfields leveled over the motor's sides, is leavened by curiosity. Occasionally braver spirits walk past at a normal gait or pause nearby for a good view of the proceedings.

But at the sound of a shot there is a general melting away of the crowd. Dublin doesn't fear these things; the city is merely "jumpy."

A Record For Saving

The present congress is continuing its record of saving money for the taxpayers. During the past few years the congress has enacted three measures which will have a wide effect in this direction. One of the most important of these is the determination on the part of the house to cut out the added expense of increasing its membership from 435 as now to 483 as recommended by the census committee in accordance with the time-honored custom of each ten years increasing the membership or the same numerical basis as the previous decennial period. In 1911 the number of people in each district was 211,877. So that in the same proportion of growth of population, in 1921 the committee fixed the number at 212,986. It was pointed out by Representative Sigel, chairman of the census committee, that France has 680 members in its popular assembly, that in the British House of Commons there are 707 members and that in Italy there are 508 members. It was figured by the members of the census committee who favored the majority report that in the house chamber and in the house office building there is now sufficient room for the increase to 483 members.

But a minority of republicans on the committee, led by Representative Fairfield of Indiana, and a majority of republicans on the floor of the house, decided that the added membership would cost more money and that therefore the total of 435 should remain as it is. It was pointed out that the mileage alone of the additional membership would cost $240,000 per year, that the increase in member's salaries would be $360,000 per year, and that it would cost $4,000,000 to duplicate the present house office building in order to house them. Both majority and minority of the census committee agreed that the clerk hire amount under the new arrangement would cost $155,000 a year and that the total further expense might run up to, a million dollars per annum. And so it was, decided, to give each member more to do during the next ten years by increasing the size of his constituency, and during that time save the tax payers something like $10,000,000.

Under the new arrangement the total number of constituents each member is to serve will be 242,415. This will be 23,429 more than would have been the case had 483 been decided upon as the proper number. Under this apportionment California will gain three new members, Michigan, two; Ohio, two and Connecticut, New Jersey, North Carolina, Texas and Washington, one each.

THE TREND of LEGISLATION

By GEO. W. STOUT
State Chamber of Commerce

Indianapolis, Jan. 29.—While Gov. McCray and his advisors are considering seriously the matter of creating by law a central board of control for Indiana's benevolent, correctional and penal institutions the executive is out with a statement declaring in effect that his administration is not committed to the plan, but that he has an open mind on the question of the proposed radical change in method.

Several states have been visited by a special committee named by Gov. McCray, and the central board of control system has been inspected and scrutinized with an eye to the possible application of the idea in the special committee returned to Indiana. There are indications that Hoosierdom somewhat impressed by the advisability of adopting the central board method here.

Institutional men in Indiana, it is said, practically without exception, strongly oppose the central board theory. While a purchasing board is good business, it is being urged that such a system of centralized, economical buying of supplies may be maintained without destroying the present humanitarian and non partisan system of conducting the state institutions.

It is being pointed out that under a board of four men at $5,000 each, a quartet of entirely new political plums would be created with, centralization of the power in the new board to "control" the army of appointees, employees and attaches at all the various penal, correctional and benevolent institutions. This power of "control" is recognized as a political asset to those holding it, a good many years that such "control" has been the Indiana idea for control vested in such a centralized body is the most dangerous and undesirable thing conceivable.

Especially is there vigorous opposition against such a centralization of political influence when it is considered that the central board of control plan would wipe out and destroy the existing system of humanitarian and nonpolitical management.

Friends of the system now in use declare it has developed in Indiana a type of, strictly disinterested, humane, thoughtful, studious and loyally devoted boards fully and humanely without thought of money reward or compensation other than the glow that goes with efficient effort for humanity.

While there is not at this time any large degree of uneasiness as to the attitude of the legislature on the issue between centralized political influence and the present nonpolitical humanitarian system of management, at the same time, while the state administration's political emissaries are sounding out legislative sentiment, the friends of the existing system are on the alert.

It is pretty well understood that Gov. McCray is going through the experiences and tests that beset every new governor in the early days of executive responsibility. It is up to the new governor, as to former governors to make certain decisions vital to the well being of the commonwealth. The legislature stands as a check when the executive gets away on the wrong foot. The executive is there to check up the doings of the law makers when they go astray, and the supreme court is ready to point out the dangers of error in both the legislative and executive departments.

It is the usual thing for the party workers who deal mostly in politics to favor such movements as that for the proposed new state board of control. They may not be able to convince the executive to the plan, but they will not fail to exert themselves more or less to put it over.

Just at this time the politicians are active, and their efforts for the state board of control scheme are being noted in and around the legislature. Apparently the chief of these activities has been to crystallize sentiment against the central board of control system.

The governor's public avowal that he is not committed to the central board idea, but that he has an "open mind" on the subject is an indication that elements other than those favoring the change have dropped into talk things over, and that their conversational efforts have not been without effect.

In fact, the executive's statement that he had not adopted as his own the central board of control idea, followed his conference with certain institutional heads and trustees on the subject of the change.

At this time each benevolent, correctional and penal institution is directed under the control of a board composed of four members, two from each of the major political parties. These board members serve practically without pay, the salary being $200 a year and expenses, while on the actual business of the institution. Those chosen are almost invariably of the best possible fitness. The jobs have no political significance and do not attract politicians. They do command the services of men and women whose minds turn instinctively to humanitarian activities and to the study of social problems. Under the existing system the standard of the institutional boards of Indiana has been maintained on a high plane of usefulness. The state has maintained a purely human contact with its unfortunate wards. A central board of control, it is asserted, would destroy this human touch.

ALS TRIUMPH IN A DOUBLE WIN

Rushville High School Varsity Defeated Connersville Handily, 35-28—Seconds Victorious

100 FANS FROM HERE PRESENT

Visitors Set Pace Early in Game and Pile up 19 Points While Connersville is Held to 4

The Rushville high school basketball team triumphed in a double victory last night, when they handed Connersville two defeats on the floor—at that city, the varsity winning 35 to 28, and the second team 14 to 12.

Two hundred Rushville fans accompanied the teams on two special cars, as well as on regular cars, and the crowd was the largest this year in the rink building in that city. Upon arrival in Connersville, a parade was made to the rink, headed by the high school band, which also went long to do "their bit."

When the games were over, another parade followed. Connersville fans were confident of taking both games because they had earlier in the season won over here, and it was a hard affair to lose, especially on their own floor.

In the big game of the evening, Rushville set the pace right at the start. Connersville had not banked on Rushville showing as much improvement, and the first seven minutes the locals had run the score up to 19 points, holding Connersville down to 4.

Coach Sutton, for several reasons which may develop later, advised his team then to slow down, and to keep the final score within ten points.

When the game first started the locals kept the ball from their opponents for three minutes, playing it back and forth along the floor. About this time Frazee was fouled and Ridge for Connersville made the first point. Then E. Headlee shot the ball through which put the game on ice for Rushville, and from this point on, a comfortable lead was maintained.

Frazee was out of luck, and within ten minutes had made three personal fouls. This had a tendency to unnerve the stalwart back guard but the game went on, and the locals would have won out anyway. Two of the fouls called on him appeared to be rather stretched by the referee, but no protest was offered.

E. Headlee, who didn't play in the game when Connersville was here back in November, took Connersville by surprise, and none of their players could head him off. He slipped the ball through from all angles on the floor, and took the home town team by storm. Of the 35 points, he made 24 of them.

A slick combination was worked with L. Headlee and Miller in the last half, and they were continually breaking through the Connersville line and worked the ball in their territory. Many easy shots were missed in this half.

In the last half Connersville worked in all of their substitutions in an effort to get ahead, but the lead was too great for them to overcome. The home town team made many shots that were mere luck, and they attempted to stage a last minute rally but the locals were too far ahead.

The two Connersville forwards, Ridge and Siler, were the individual stars and were the main point getters for their team.

The Rushville machinery worked smoothly all through the game, and all five players went through without a change.

The line-up and summary:
Rushville (35) Connersville (28)
L. Headlee F. Ridge
Miller F. Siler
E. Headlee C. Cates
Ekins G. Johnson
Frazee G. McNaughton
Substitutions: Connersville, Davis, Sparks and Hoover.

COLUMBUS LEGION QUINTET IS COMING

Odd Fellows Face One of Hardest Games of Season Tuesday Night When They Come

GREENWOOD BOOKED TO PLAY

The Odd Fellows basketball team will face one of their hardest games Tuesday night on the Modern Appliance floor when the Columbus Legion team will be their opponents. This team is considered very fast, and is composed of former high school stars. Columbus has taken Connersville to task twice so their strength can be judged from those games.

The local team has won eight out of 14 games this season, and has piled up 369 points to the opponents 288. The average number of points for each game has been 28.8.

The Odd Fellows will also journey to Carthage next Thursday night, where they will play the team from that place. This game will be played on the new "gym" floor in the community building. The Greenwood Legion team, champions of the Legion league, has been booked for a game here on February 15.

DEPAUW WINS IN LAST FEW SECONDS OF PLAY

Defeats Notre Dame Friday Night 26 to 25, With Foul Goal When Game Appeared a Tie

INVADERS LEAD MOST OF WAY

Greencastle, Ind., Jan. 28.—Capt. Bob Gipson of the Tiger basketball team won the game against Notre Dame here last night with a foul goal, making the final score 26 to 25.

With the score tied and thirty seconds to go, Gipson tossed one through the net. Notre Dame took an early lead and held it until the closing minutes. They carried the first half honors 12 to 9. With four minutes to play, DePauw tied the score at 21 and then Cannon tossed a pretty field goal putting DePauw ahead for the first time.

Mehre again knotted the count with a field goal. Logan repeated for Notre Dame and White saved with a field marker. Then Capt. Gibson played the hero role and tossed the winning marker. Notre Dame played a fast game and also had DePauw guessing on the defense. Notre Dame failed to break the DePauw pass which was good for many field goals. McDermott and Mehre were the stars for Notre Dame. The former went out late in the game on fouls. Line up and summary:

FINAL COUNT WAS 34 TO 31

Franklin, Ind., Jan. 29.—Dribbling through the first and second lines of defense of the Franklin high school quintet the Lebanon high school five handed the local aggregation a 34-to-31 defeat here tonight.

The score was tied many times during the contest. Lebanon won by simply playing a better game of ball than Franklin. Akers was the sensation of the game, making baskets from all angles of the floor. Although Vandiver played a wonderful floor game his basket shooting was far below par. At half time Franklin was leading, 19 to 18. Lineup and summary:

Lebanon (34) Franklin (31)

Harlos C. Vandiver
Akers G. Ballard

SANDUSKY AND MILROY TO MEET

These Two Teams Will Likely Battle For Supremacy in Final of Invitational Tourney

BEING HELD AT MILROY TODAY

Sandusky Had to Beat Carthage and Milroy-Letts This Afternoon to Reach Final

Final Game
7:30 Winner 2:30 game vs winner 2:30 game.

Early indications this afternoon were that Milroy and Sandusky would meet tonight in the final game, at the invitational tourney, being held in Milroy today, with eight teams taking part.

In order to reach the final game tonight, it was necessary for Sandusky to defeat Fairview at 2:30 and for Milroy to defeat Letts in the last afternoon game beginning at 3:30. It was a conceded fact that Fairview would lose their game to Sandusky and that Milroy would take the game from Letts.

The crowd at the games this morning were not as large as it would have been had the weather been nice, but indications this afternoon were that the crowd tonight would more than fill the place.

In case that Sandusky and Milroy clash in the final game, it no doubt will be close, as the Decatur county team is reputed to have the best team in that county, having defeated Greensburg twice, both times by a ten point margin.

In the first round this morning four teams were eliminated from the race, when Arlington, Carthage, Burney and Moscow went down in defeat.

The drawing took place at 8:30 this morning and the four morning games were played between the following teams, Fairview against Arlington; Sandusky against Carthage; Burney against Letts and Milroy against Moscow.

In the first game, which started at nine o'clock the Arlington team put up a stiff fight against Fairview, but the latter team won, 24 to 18. The game was fast from beginning to end, but the Fairview team had the Arlington team bested on making long shots.

In the second game, a delay was experienced, when the lights went out, and the morning games were thrown behind the schedule, making the last morning game run into the noon hour.

RALEIGH SWAMPS GLENWOOD

Holds Visitors to Single Point in The Last Half

The Raleigh high school swamped the Glenwood high school last night on the floor, at Raleigh, the final count being 41 to 11. The Raleigh team staged a rally in the last half, and held the visiting team to a lone point. When the first half ended the score was 15 to 10. Raleigh has been playing fast ball this season, and has a clean record on their own floor.

Much interest centers in the game next Friday night at Raleigh, when the real test of their strength will come, as the opposing team will be Carthage.

RALEIGH MAKES PROTEST

Complains to State Association of Fairview Player's Action

Two high school teams in northern Rush county have a matter before the Indiana High School Athletic association, it was learned today, when A. L. Trester, state secretary, addressed letters to the coaches of the Fairview and Raleigh teams. Mr. Trester stated that the Raleigh team has issued a protest against Fairview, as the outgrowth of an incident when the two teams played of the Raleigh floor. According to Mr. Trester, one of the Fairview players grabbed the referee, after a decision had been made. The Fairview team lost the game by one point. The complaint was registered by Raleigh, and each team will be compelled to relate the incident, and a decision will be reached by the state athletic board.

GUY BATES POST

AN EPOCH-making event in the annals of American amusements is the presentation by Richard Walton Tully, of the virile, compelling, accomplished, American actor, GUY BATES POST, in the iridescent bubble of modern humanity, "THE MASQUERADER." This dramatic masterpiece by John Hunter B. Booth, taken from the widely-read novel of Katherine Cecil Thurston, intimately illustrates the lives of two men who met in the fog and traded identities and living quarters.

THE DUAL CHARACTERIZATION offers Mr. Post a wonderful opportunity and the contrasted characters are impersonated by him with all the art of a genius mind. His drug fiend is a pitiful wretch, his Loder, the "man," the mental and moral antithesis of the other.

MORE INTENSELY and artistically interesting than Jekyll and Hyde—more massive in presentation than any modern play, and yet, so deftly done, its ponderous scenes move with the smooth rapidity of an uninterrupted panorama, and that is what this wonderful play is—A LIVING, MOVING, TALKING PANORAMIC REFLEX OF THE WARP AND WOOF OF HUMANITY.

The Most Ponderous of All Modern Plays, Pulsating with the Element that Comprises "Life." Presented in—

The Ladies Aid Society of the Glenwood M. E. church enjoyed a delicious pitch-in supper and entertainment last evening at the church following the bountiful supper which was served in the basement of the church, the ladies went to the auditorium of the building where the entertainment was given. Each lady who pledged themselves to earn one dollar for the benefit of the society, turned in their money last night and in doing so had to give a piece of poetry telling how they earned the money. Readings and music composed the remainder of the entertainment. A social hour was enjoyed at the close of the program.

The Dunning Music Study Club held its regular monthly meeting Friday evening at the home of Donald Dean. The leaders for the evening were Donald Dean and Eugene Engle. A delightful program was rendered consisting of solos, duets and trios. Max Engle of Morristown pleased all present with a violin solo accompanied on the piano by his brother Eugene. Mrs. Will Meredith gave an interesting account of the national convention of music teachers which met in Chicago in December. Following the program a musical contest was a feature of the evening, after which light refreshments were served. A large number of the parents of the children were present as guests.

Miss Roxie Kuhn of Arlington delightfully entertained with a prettily appointed party last evening, honoring her seventeenth birthday. The guests enjoyed the evening playing games and with music, and at the close of the party dainty refreshments were served. The guests included Mr. and Mrs. Roy Lucas, the Misses Velma Ronan, Florence Schaffer, Zelda Hutchinson, Maud Woods, Iris and Lucille Gardner, Irene Addison, Mabel Lee, Nina Seward, Emma Allison, Mildred Woods, and Zelma Hoffmann of Indianapolis and Frank Coons, Marvin Riggsbee, Lee Mitchell, Omer Cooley, Donald Long, Herbert Kuhn, Lowell Offutt, Donald Birt, Lowell Hutchinson, Russell Macy, Roy Nelson, Dr. and Mrs. A. URGES FEEDING OF BIRDS

G. N. Mannfeld Asks Cooperation of Fish and Game Association

Indianapolis, Ind., Jan. 29—A sudden drop in temperature makes it difficult for birds to procure food and water and unless citizens assist in caring for them during the cold spell many will die from hunger and thirst; it was pointed out today by officials of the state department of conservation, George N. Mannfeld, superintendent of fish and game, sent a message to the secretaries of 110 fish and game protective associations asking their cooperation. He suggested that grain be scattered and bits of suet thrown out as many birds prefer the latter in extreme cold weather. Farmers now recognize the economic value of birds as destroyers of insect life and weed seeds, and in many localities are generally first to give aid in such emergencies.

Measuring Fixed Stars.

For many years it was thought impossible to measure the fixed stars. The ablest astronomers, with the best glasses, tried and failed. When the final triumph came it was not some fiery orb that attracted the most attention to itself whose distance from the sun was found, but an insignificant sixth magnitude star not far from Deneb, which had only its number, 61 Cygni, for a name.

Amusements

Blanche Sweet Coming

Blanche Sweet was so impressed with the possibilities for superb acting when she read the script for "Simple Souls", her latest Jesse D. Hampton production, that she personally insisted that every step be taken to secure the very best actors obtainable for her supporting cast. As a result, careful thought was given by the casting director to the individual members of the company, and an exceptionally strong aggregation of film players appears in the picture with her.

Charles Meredith, one of the screen's most popular leading men, is cast in the leading role. Other well-known players are Herbert Standing, Mayme Keso, Kate Lester, Herbert Grimwood, Frederick Huntley, Aaron Edwards and Oliver Robst.

"Simple Souls" is the Pathé special feature showing Monday and Tuesday at the Mystic Theatre.

Kerrigan at Princess

"No. 99" is the newest treat awaiting local picture-lovers who delight in viewing fascinating J. Warren Kerrigan disport on the silver sheet in his unmatchable style. The popular star's new Brunton picture rated the finest of his W. V. Hodkinson releases to date is the attraction today at the Princess Theatre.

Arthur Penryn, a convict from Sing Sing who has been unjustly sentenced, escapes. He hides himself in Cynthia Vivian's boudoir, where she discovers him. Her sympathies are enlisted, and she suggests that he remain in hiding at her home, posing as Phillip Valentine, a friend of her brother, who is absent. He becomes a guest in the house, which is closely watched by armed guards. At this house party are John Brandt, the man who sent Arthur to jail, and Renee Etherington, an old love of Arthur's. Arthur intimidates Brandt into silence, and Renee does not hand him over to the authorities because she still loves him. Brandt is a suitor for Cynthia's hand, but Arthur and Cynthia quickly fall in love.

The butler announces the real Phillip Valentine, and Arthur, has him locked in the garage. Suspicious are aroused when Arthur is caught with a tray of food for Valentine. Just as officers are about to discover Valentine, Arthur and Cynthia jump into a sedan and speed away. Arthur drives to the man whom Brandt paid to "frame" Arthur, and send him to jail. He forces the fellow to inform on Brandt. Brandt instead of Arthur, is placed under arrest. Arthur turns out to be the son of Henry Penryn, the coal baron. And with his trouble at an end the handsome hero eaves to begin life anew with Cynthia.

Sugar Gives Off Sparks.

A queer phenomenon has recently come to the notice of Washington scientists. Disks of loaf sugar, mounted on a rapidly rotating lathe while a hammer beat lightly against them were seen to give off a continuous light that has not been satisfactorily explained.

WOULD CREATE NEW STATE SERVICE

Appropriation Bill For $95,000 For Conservation Department is Likely to Pass

WILL SERVE TWO PURPOSES

Most Would be Made for Establishment of Topographic Divisions Which is Needed

Indianapolis, Ind., Jan. 29.—Members of the Indiana legislature are seriously considering the appropriation of $95,000 for the state department of conservation embodied in the appropriation bill. Of this sum, $35,000 is to be used by the department in creating and operating a new division of the department to be known as the Topographic Division.

This division would deal with the mapping of Indiana and a survey of the state's natural resources and would be aided in its work by the United States government. Topographical Survey with financial assistance such as the government is giving other states.

Indiana is the only state which does not now have a department of topography according to Dr. W. N. Logan, state geologist.

"The necessity for a complete topographical survey of Indiana seems imperative," Dr. Logan said. "Almost every line of industrial development utilizing the natural resources of Indiana are dependent upon the information contained in a topographical map and where such information is not at hand, it must be obtained at a great expense and generally to the discouragement of industry."

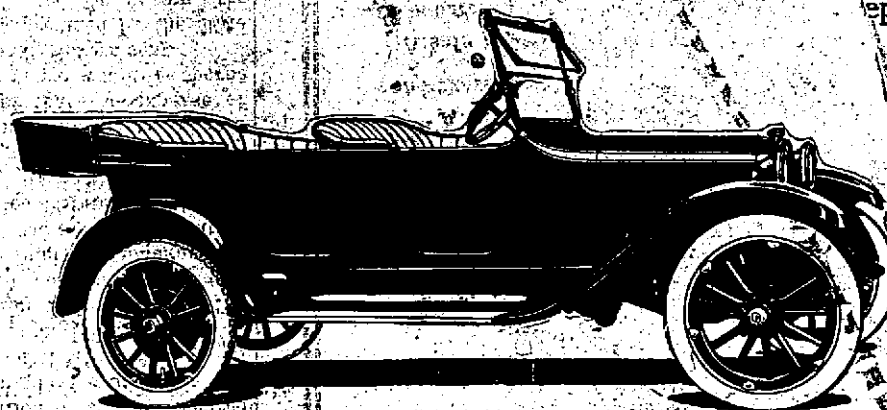

The farmer is aided by the topographic map, Dr. Logan said, because it shows the relation of his land to drainage, ditches, streams or lakes. It will give him data essential to determine the depth of water bearing strata and of coal veins if any should be on his land. It also gives him the necessary profile for the establishment of drainage ditches and roads on the farm, Dr. Logan added.

A topographic survey of Indiana would benefit the railroads, coal mining interests, quarry industries, the gas and oil industries, geological work and soil work, and would assist in determining land values, he said.

The cost of mapping the state topographically, he concluded, would be about $966,000 according to the figures of the department in comparison with the size of the quadrangles of the state.

The people of the state seem to have forgotten the disastrous flood of 1913 he says. Dr. Logan points out that the people of Ohio have not forgotten, or are they likely to forget, for $25,000,000 are being spent by Miami Conservancy at Dayton in
